

Ansible Raw Module

- Ansible Raw Module is builtin module and it is used to execute low level commands on managed nodes when managed nodes are not installed with python
- We should use only raw module for any kind of tasks/operations if managed nodes are not installed with python
- Note: Make sure `gather_facts: false` for the playbooks which are developing with raw module